A plot of land comprising the survey nos. 26, 29, 31 and 32 of Hirle, above the channel has been selected for the purpose. The land measures 25 acres and 19 guntas and the cost of the acquisition of the same is estimated at 1020 Rs at 40 Rs per acre. Then a sum of Rs 300/- for forming the roads and another sum of Rs 1000/- for sinking two wells are required. Thus the cost of forming the extension will be about Rs 2320/-

Sir,

In returning the enclosures I have the honor to report that I inspected the site chosen by the Revenue Authorities for the extension of the Nirle village in the Yedatore Taluk.

The proposed site is high and dry and seems very well suited for the purpose. I consider it however desirable to -- acquire, in addition to the area shewn in red ink in the sketch survey numbers 27 and 28.

I suggest this desirability in view to limiting the -- westernmost house in the extension, to the purple line I have -- drawn in the sketch.

I was told by some of the villagers that gathered -- around me during my inspection that for a space of 50 yards or so from the canal eastwards on this area, the ground remains -- damp for a long time during the normally wet months of the year.

In view to avoid the risk attendant on living in damp houses, I believe it is highly advisable that a space of 100 -- yards eastwards from the canal should not be allowed to be built upon. I have roughly indicated this limit by a purple line.

I have fully explained my views to the Amildar Mr.M. Rama Rao and he concurs with me in them.

Judging from the apparent eagerness with which the -- sanction of the Government to the laying on of this extension, is anticipated by the villagers, I think that the Government is not likely to loose in the transaction viz.- acquiring the -- fields indicated above and selling the same parcelled out into building or house sites.

It would probably be necessary to sink a few wells in fields bearing survey numbers 27 and 28 and this item of expend-

of the house sites.
